DETAILED ACTION

Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

Note the use of the expression "invention".

Claim Objections

The numbering of claims is not in accordance with 37 CFR 1.126 which requires the original numbering of the claims to be preserved throughout the prosecution. When claims are canceled, the remaining claims must not be renumbered. When new claims are presented, they must be numbered consecutively beginning with the number next following the highest numbered claims previously presented (whether entered or not).

Misnumbered claims 10-19 been renumbered 11-20, respectively. Further, the dependencies of the claims have been changed accordingly.

Drawings

The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the limitations of claim

Art Unit: 3637

20 must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claim 20 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. Claim 20 calls for the height of the frame to be adjustable. However, the specification and drawings fail to define any structure to clearly define how this is done.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 11-14, 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Harvey. The patent to Harvey teaches structure as claimed including a fixture for forming unit loads to be received on two or more loading ledges, which unit loads after forming are lifted from the fixture together with the loading ledges, wherein the fixture is to receive the loading ledges and the fixture has means to adapt the positions of the loading ledges depending on the size and form of the unit loads to be formed, the fixture has an approximate rectangular frame, formed of at least two parallel long struts(11) and at least two parallel short struts (12) at the end of the long struts, a further number of intermediate (12) short struts are arranged between the long struts, transversal bars are arranged moveable on the long struts, with the ends of each transversal bar on each long strut, locking means.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claims 15-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Harvey in view of Hodges. The patent to Harvey teaches structure substantially as claimed as discussed above including transverse bars, the only difference being that cups are not adjustably mounted on the bars. However, the patent to Hodges (30) teaches the use of providing cups to be old. It would have been obvious and well within the level of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention was made to modify the structure of Harvey to include adjustable cups since such structures are conventional alternative structures used in the same intended purpose, thereby providing structure as claimed.

Claim 20 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Harvey in view of Oehler. The patent to Harvey teaches structure substantially as claimed as discussed above including a frame, the only difference being that the height of the frame is not adjustable . However, the patent to Oehler teaches the use of providing structure to allow for height adjustment to be old. It would have been obvious and well within the level of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention was made to modify the structure of Harvey to include height adjustment structure, as taught by Oehler since such structures are conventional alternative structures used in the same intended purpose, thereby providing structure as claimed.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The references to Collins, Weiss, Dobron, Bond, Wakano, Jeruzal, Kwong et al, Prevot et al, Richard, Miller teach structure similar to applicant's.
